1973 was the year Secretariat ran the fastest Triple Crown in history, American troops came home from Vietnam, and lines at gas stations wrapped around the block. But in Kula 200, someone poured a masonry foundation on a fresh two-acre lot and built a home meant to last. When a stretch of Upcountry agricultural land was divided into two hundred two-acre parcels, it gave rise to what is known today as Kula 200, one of the most sought-after pockets along the edge of Kula and Pukalani/Makawao. Built in 1973, with a distinctive brick and masonry exterior,
