Villa Calasa. Beyond two private gates, a winding drive rises through rolling hills to an Italian villa on the lower slopes of Haleakala. Set on 19.8 fully enclosed acres at 2,400 feet in Kula, the estate offers rare privacy, where moss-rock walls and kiawe fencing hold the world at a distance. Watch sunrise over Haleakala and sunset over the West Maui Mountains and the Pacific, with bicoastal views throughout. Crisp mornings, mild afternoons, and evenings by one of six fireplaces; six covered lanais extend living outdoors year-round. The 6,122 SF residence, built in 2012 and
