1 acre parcel with 3 buildings ready for your imagination! This property, with big ocean views about halfway up in the subdivision, has a small storage building, another very good sized structure that could become a rental unit, and then at the top of the lot, a larger 3rd building with soaring ceilings that would make a great home. There is a large concrete deck on the front of the 3rd building where you can take in the view of the ocean or stars overhead. Both buildings seem solid, just need to be finished out. Bring your tools and ideas! This could be a great off grid
