If you are looking for a true forest setting rather than a barren lava landscape, this lower HOVE lot is a beautiful find. The 1-acre property is thickly wooded with mature native Ohi'a trees and established local vegetation, creating a really private, peaceful canopy that feels like your own private park. It sits on a gentle, manageable slope with easy access off a fully paved road, offering a great balance of raw natural privacy and a clear path to building. While the lush greenery is the highlight here, there is potential for the area to be cleared for your future home site
